

Placing Families

Once you have the walls of your room, you can place your cabinet families. To load a cabinet family for the first time, open your file with families and double click. This view means we are looking at the family. Click "Load into Project and Close" and select your project.

Now that you are back in your file, you can place your new family right away by clicking. You can also press escape. Your newly loaded family will appear under 'Architecture > Component >
